

LEGAL DIRECTOR/ LAWYERS

Legal Aid Saskatchewan provides legal services in criminal and family law to eligible people through a staff lawyer program. Our values include being accessible, collegial, compassionate, ethical, fair, independent and professional.

LegalAid has current openings for a Legal Director and Staff Lawyers. Applicants must be eligible for membership in the Law Society of Saskatchewan.

Legal Aid Saskatchewan is seeking an individual to join its senior management team as the Legal Director of the Melfort Office. The successful candidate, under the supervision of the Chief Executive Officer, will manage the Area Office, inclusive of administrative activities and supervision of five staff, as well as provide legal services to eligible clients. As part of the management team, the Legal Director will be involved in setting and carrying out policy and will participate in strategic and operational endeavours.

The ideal candidate will have some management or supervisory experience and a minimum of five years of experience in litigation or the general practice of law, preferably in criminal and family law. Placement within the salary range [$121,067 to $148,604] is commensurate with experience.

Legal Aid Saskatchewan is seeking to hire lawyers for the Meadow Lake Office and Prince Albert Office. These positions involve travel in small aircraft to northern communities. Under the direction of the Legal Director, the lawyer will practice adult/youth criminal and family law. Applicants should have experience in litigation, particularly in criminal and family law. Placement within the salary range [$77,420 to $139,780] is commensurate with experience.

All positions provide for a comprehensive benefits package inclusive of a pension plan. Incumbents are entitled to 3 weeks of vacation, 15 EDOs and 13 Statutory Holdiays.

We encourage applications from people of Aboriginal ancestry, of visible minority groups, with disabilities and women seeking management and non-traditional roles. Legal Aid Saskatchewan has an employment equity program approved by the Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission.
